This high-level training event is designed for 60 specialists and residents eager to deepen their knowledge of the latest techniques in the field of plastic and reconstructive surgery, as well as aesthetic medicine. Under the scientific direction of Dr. Alessandro Gualdi and Dr. Dario Bertossi, the course offers a practical and integrated approach, combining theoretical lectures, live surgery demonstrations, and hands-on sessions. Participants will have the unique opportunity to observe live surgical procedures in the operating room, while simultaneously replicating the same techniques on anatomical specimens in ICLo's state-of-the-art cadaver lab.

This synchronous teaching method allows participants to immediately consolidate the skills acquired, with direct support from leading experts.

The first day will be entirely dedicated to aesthetic medicine, with both theoretical and practical sessions, always with the opportunity to apply the learned techniques on anatomical specimens.

The second day will focus on plastic surgery, particularly facial and neck lifting procedures. Participants will have the chance to observe live surgeries in the operating room and replicate step-by-step the surgical techniques on cadavers, under the expert guidance of our instructors.

This course represents a valuable opportunity to refine technical skills and stay up to date with practical, hands-on experiences, all under the guidance of highly experienced and renowned surgeons.
