The MFI Academy Course – The Italian Touch is aimed at 60 specialists and residents interested in deepening their knowledge of the latest techniques in plastic and reconstructive surgery, as well as aesthetic medicine. It offers a practical and integrated approach, including theoretical lectures, video of live surgery demonstrations, and hands-on sessions on cadavers.

The course is scientifically directed by Dr. Alessandro Gualdi and Prof. Dario Bertossi, and the faculty also includes Dr. Maurizio Cavallini and Dr. Michele Pascali – all highly experienced and renowned experts in their fields. The first day is dedicated to aesthetic medicine, with both theoretical and practical sessions using anatomical specimens. The second day focuses on plastic surgery, particularly facial and neck lifting procedures, with participants observing video of live surgeries in the operating room and replicating the techniques step by step on cadavers. To ensure a high-quality learning experience, one anatomical specimen will be provided for every two participants, allowing for intensive hands-on practice in small groups.

This course provides an opportunity to refine technical skills through immediate, hands-on learning, with direct guidance from a distinguished faculty.

All sessions (every bullet point of the list) will follow the same educational format, which we believe to be the most effective way to master surgical techniques:

- 1. Pre-recorded live surgery video demonstrating the surgical approach
- 2. Master hands-on session on cadaver specimen led by the faculty
- 3. Practical training on cadaver specimen performed by the participants followed step by step from the faculties
